To our dear patients we call friends,

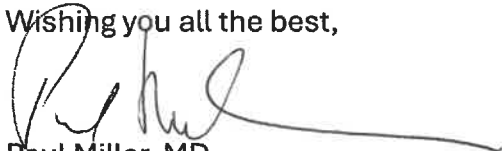

Mischelle and I want to thank you for the outpouring of gratitude, cards, and gifts that you have given individually to us recently, either at the Meet and Greet or during your routine office visit. I feel humbled to hear or read about the stories of how you, or your family, have been affected positively by our practice. I will always remember the trust you have given me over the years, and I will miss our visits together.

For Mischelle, she will be busy home-schooling her two grandchildren who you may have met at the Meet and Greet. They are two precious children, and I am happy they have such a key role model for a grandmother.

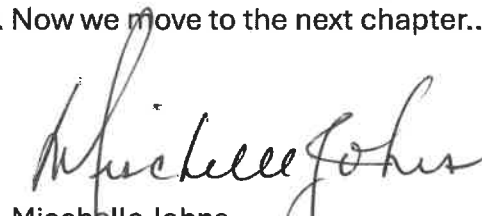

For myself, my wife and I will be moving to Florida for retirement around the end of this year. I am going to try out Pickle ball and see what all the excitement is about, as well as maybe play golf.

We both wish you and your family health and happiness and trust you will continue to get exceptional care here at the office we leave behind. I feel confident in the team we have assembled and believe you will come to trust them as you have trusted Mischelle and me. As in all stories, there must come an ending. Now we move to the next chapter...

Wishing you all the best,

Paul Miller, MD
